INDEX OF HISTORIES OF UPTON GREY

Draft 2, June 2021

Gold shading indicates histories with detailed information on multiple additional house locations and persons not captured by the database references¹

Blue shading indicates histories with detailed information on multiple additional persons (but not locations) not captured by the database references

The table below provides a list of the different histories of Upton Grey that have been written, with a brief summary. Each one has its own separate Entry in the WOTP database (the Entry ID is given in the table), where you can find the history itself and related documents with the usual WOTP header page introduction and cross-references.

The table is in chronological order of when the history was written.

Entry ID	Title/ description (date written)	Comments
649	Victoria County History (1908)	Upton Grey section from original Hampshire 'red book'. 6 pages long, including some illustrations. Concentrates mainly on the history of the two manors and the church building and the people associated with them (not referenced in the database). Also includes a verbal description of the village and its landscape at the time of its publication.
616	The Wessex Series - A Recent History of Hampshire, Wiltshire, Dorset by P Campion (c 1920)	Copy of page on Upton Grey House and the Manor House. Full book may have more detail on UG.
608	Upton Grey Women's Institute Scrapbook (1951)	Collection of historical and contemporary stories, pictures and poems. An insight into village life in 1951 and the previous 50 years, as well as well-researched articles on its older history. Handwritten, 36 pages.
681	Pevsner Architectural Guides - Hampshire and the Isle of Wight (1967), re-issued as 'Hampshire and the North' (2010)	Definitive architectural history of Great Britain. Extensive background on the area and 2 pages on Upton Grey.
679	Hampshire Treasures survey by Hampshire CC (1979)	Upton Grey entry has brief intro and 6 pages listing 'treasures' (natural or manmade features of aesthetic, archaeological, historic, scenic, scientific, sociological or traditional interest), including around 30 buildings, mainly houses, (referenced in the database).

¹ Because of the number of houses and persons referred to in these histories we have not picked up all the 'location' references (modern postal addresses) and 'person' references in the WOTP database. Other histories which are not shaded in the table have comparatively few location and person references and these have generally been picked up in the 'location' and 'person' references for that Entry.
